

Permission for Kerrisdale Presbyterian Church to Use My Image

Photos are a powerful communication tool. Just as you enjoy taking and sharing images of your family and friends, Kerrisdale Presbyterian Church (KPC) wants to share photos of our activities with our members and with the larger community.

While some people believe that worship and church programs are public activities, others consider the church as the only place where they can safely make themselves vulnerable before God and other community members. We want a media policy that allows us to invite and welcome disciples to God's house and to protect them from unwelcome intrusions on their privacy as they go through the sometimes uncomfortable process of becoming apostles.

If you are comfortable with allowing Kerrisdale Presbyterian Church to use the attached image(s) and/or images of your children for our communication and publicity purposes, please sign your name below, and then use the other side of this form to confirm the conditions under which the church may use these images. If you do not want your image used for any church purpose, please inform the minister and/or church secretary. You may change these permissions at any time.

Any images taken for church use will be stored on a removable storage device and kept in locked storage. The decision to use them for church purposes will be made by the minister or church secretary.

I agree that Kerrisdale Presbyterian Church may use images of me or of my children according to the conditions I select in this form. I understand that I will not be compensated for any use of the images and that I cannot hold KPC liable if a third party misuses the images after they are published by KPC.
